The supply depot of the Volkspolizei at Bad Schandau received 12,200 new uniforms on 28 August 1953, of which about half were impregnated heavy winter outfits. About 20,000 completely gas-proof suits are in store in the port. At the end of August, 24 camouflage nets and about 60 cross-country tires were issued to the eight Volkspolizei artillery units in barracks at Treuenbrietzen. About 750 pairs of high laced boots were delivered to the Volkspolizei unit at North Dessau. The Dresden stockyard currently delivers canned pork, produced by the Konsum Dresden. During the month of August, 480 centners of canned food of various kinds were put in store. The greater part came from the VEB Fleischwarenwerken at Halberstadt. Canned fish which already had been in storage for a year has been turned over to the Konsum, and will be replaced by new. The provision depot is not in the port in Schandau, but in the inner town. It is a former depot of the Konsum.
